Pieter has recently transitioned into the position of Graham Beck's Chief Operating Officer (COO), after a remarkable 32 years at the helm of the cellar.

This next adventure is one of his greatest yet, as he continues to establish Graham Beck as the Cap Classique of choice. "For over three decades, Graham Beck has been my home. I was there for the very first vintage that took place under the stars and look forward to seeing what is written in them for me next!" smiles Pieter.

The joy of producing a finely balanced, exquisite Cap Classique is just boundless. Crafting world class sparkling wines is a process that demands your undivided attention, passion, dedication and creativity. There is no room for error but, rather, endless scope for refinement and innovation," he maintains.

From harvesting, to blending and tasting the final product, he approaches each aspect of the Cap Classique craft with passionate precision, immense enthusiasm, and an unquenchable zest for celebrating what matters.
